BEER FOR ALL

Don't forget to make the most of the new website

Our new website has been live for a few weeks now, and we are pleased with its new look. You can read any back issues of the newsletter, see all our taproom and festival reviews, see our back catalogue of Podcast episodes and much more.

Our Taproom Finder is an interactive map allowing you to find your nearest craft beer taproom or craft beer bar. It's not quite complete just yet, but still a great resource. Let us know by email if you spot any errors or omissions.

Food & Drink Inflation Hits 15%

Lots of fairly grim financial forecasts about this week, but we decided to lead with the CGA survey showing annual food and drink inflation in hospitality has hit 15% for the first time.

Seal of Independence

At Beervana, Jeff writes about Brewers Association Seal of Independence becoming five years old this week. Even though the BA includes a number of massive breweries in their ranks that we wouldn't identify as "Craft", the Seal does provide a valuable way to partition the 'nasty' Macros.

(We can't show the seal for copyright reasons)

Sam Smith's Finally Accept Card Payments

The Pub Curmudgeon has a nice piece on Sam Smiths finally accepting debit cards across their pub estate. Mobile phones are still banned however, so many will likely miss out on some of their iconic boozers, notably the Citie of Yorke and the Cheshire Cheese in Central London.

Stuttgart's Answer To Oktoberfest

Finally Tempest in a Tankard wrote a nice piece about Germany's 2nd Festival, the Canstatter Volksfest in Stuttgart. Although the sheer scale of the German Festivals does appeal to us, the lack of modern beer styles means there are perhaps better options.

Taproom Review

ROB C
CO FOUNDER TWICB

Cafe Beermoth

Brown Street, Manchester M2 1DA

I think it is fair to say that, we do a lot of Craft Beer drinking in the UK in fairly basic or rustic surroundings. Don't get me wrong, I have never sat in a Taproom drinking fresh Craft Beer that didn't please me. However there are certain Taproom experiences where you sit down, look around and say, damn, this is nice!

One such place is Cafe Beermoth, which opened close to the Arndale Centre in Central Manchester in 2015, and literally oozes class. The bar seats at least 100 people in a combination of booths and cafe-style tables.

The bar has rotating cask & keg craft beer and an extensive bottle menu. Beers are from the UK, Belgium, Germany, other parts of Europe and the United States.

Taproom Review

When we visited last week, they were pouring ten keg and seven cask beers, including a DEYA Tap Takeover that featured the first ever pouring of Steady Rolling Man on cask! It should be no real surprise that DEYA should choose Cafe Beermoth for this most-special of launches, as the bar is in the very upper-echelons of the UK Craft Beer Scene.

The bar serves a range of cold meat and cheese plates, as well as some awesome looking gourmet sausage rolls, and if for some bizarre reason the draft beer list doesn't please you, there is also a full-bar service of wines, spirits and soft-drinks available.

A huge array of keg taps and cask pumps

If you haven't yet had the pleasure of whiling away a few hours in Cafe Beermoth, you need to make it a priority the next time you are in the Northwest.

The Podcast with A Hoppy Place

You can listen to the Podcast by downloading through the normal channels, including Apple and Spotify from 4am Monday.

EPISODE 129 - A HOPPY PLACE

We are delighted to welcome to the Podcast, Dave from A Hoppy Place.

Dave (middle in photo) launched A Hoppy Place in Windsor with his wife Naomi and brother-in-law Jason in August 2019.

Since then the Windsor venue has twice won Regional Camra Pub Of The Year. It also won the SIBA Craft Beer Retailer of the Year award for a single outlet in 2021

Following a successful crowdfunder, in June 2022, Dave and Team opened a second much larger venue in their home town of Maidenhead, which is where this recording was made.
