Manorlands supports patients with life-limiting illnesses and their families at the hospice and in the community, across an area covering Craven, Airedale and Wharfedale as well as parts of Bradford. All services are free to patients and their loved ones, but it costs £9,000 a day to keep the hospice doors open. Only a small part of the cost is covered by statutory funds. Most of the funds have to be raised through voluntary donations.

Every year in July, OPM takes part in and supports the Sue Ryder Coniston challenge day, this year would have been the 12th year. Last year 28 teams raised a whacking - £51,270 on the day.

OPM (Labels & Packaging) Group - have risen to the challenge making a donation of £7,000.

With your support we are confident we may still be able to raise some funds for Manorlands this year.

If you can support this year please go to the Just Giving Link:-- https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/opmgroupconiston20 to make your donation.

This year, DUE TO Covid 19 the Coniston Challenge, Beef & Beer Night and most planned fundraising events have being cancelled for 2020 and the majority of Sue Ryder shops have been closed. Manorlands funding gap will be around £1.5 million – over the past 12 years the Challenge Committee through its annual events had managed to raise £1.1 million for Sue Ryder Manorlands Hospice.

We want to try and get the ball rolling on the "Alternative Coniston Challenge 2020" to raise money in the month of July to try and get close to last year's total - even if we cannot do it in person with our teams, we can - hopefully do it together with donations.
This Week in Craft Beer is dedicated to supporting and promoting Independent UK Craft Breweries and the ecosystem surrounding them.

We define Independent as being those breweries who are not wholly or partly owned by a macro brewery. A macro brewery is generally defined as a large, national or international brewery that produces and distributes more than 6 million barrels of beer per year.

Getting a new brewery off the ground is an expensive business, so most have external shareholders in some shape or form, whether through friends and family, crowdfunding, or some other form of investment. In our opinion, this does not compromise their independence, as long as the shareholder is not a macro brewery.

Why does this matter?

Having a Macro as a parent company (even a minority shareholder), gives the brewery huge advantages of patronage, including access to cheaper or scarce ingredients, access to distribution networks, access to points of sale including draft taps and pub fridges etc. For example, in 2017 ABInbev bought the entire South African hop market for its own use and denied access to all independent breweries.
