Rail Strikes Devastating For Hospitality Industry

Let's start this week with the sombre news from the Morning Advertiser that the rail strikes this weekend are going to be devastating to pubs, bars and clubs. The article includes some hard-hitting quotes from the CEO of the NTIA, who accuses the rail union leaders of "destroying the lives and the livelihoods" of those working in hospitality.

Sureshot Brewing Taproom

4 Sheffield St, Manchester M1 2ND

The Sureshot taproom is nestled in an arch under Piccadilly station a short walk from Manchester Town centre, serving brewery fresh beers from their brewery next door. They are in excellent company with both the Cloudwater Brew Co. and Track Brewing taprooms all within a leisurely stroll.

Stepping inside the taproom, one is embraced by the understated charm of an 'archway' interior, a design choice that immediately puts any craft beer enthusiast at ease, evoking a sense of welcome familiarity.

The whole place exudes a rustic allure, artfully adorned with Sureshot's iconic red and white logo, brought to life through numerous vinyl tapestries and bunting that decorate the space. At one end, a sizeable screen enhances the establishment, offering patrons either a melodic music channel or live sports events.

There are plenty of wooden tables and chairs in the venue that can probably easily seat 80+ people with a little extra seating available outside.

The bar has 10 keg taps of which about half served Sureshot's own deliciously crafted beers. During our stay there were guest beers from Holy Goat, Little Monster Brewing and Two Flints Brewery and guest beers are rotated regularly.

Sureshot's 'Teddy Boys Don't Knit and Small Man's Wetsuit were tasting particularly fresh and flavoursome on the day. For the non-beer drinkers, cocktails, mead, spirits and wine are available. The beer can be soaked up with food delivered by their food partners.

Having visited on a Saturday, shortly after opening hours, we observed the taproom's ambiance gradually unfurl as the day progressed—a lively atmosphere that our photographs could hardly do justice to.

Overall a very pleasant experience and well worth a visit - Sureshot beers are excellent and taste even better fresh from their taproom.

The Sureshot taproom is open :

Wednesday: 4pm - 11pm
Thursday: 2pm - 11pm
Friday: 12pm - 11pm
Saturday: 12pm - 11pm
Sunday: 12pm - 9pm

No bookings - just turn up and enjoy great beer.

The Podcast with The Grumpy Goat

You can listen to the Podcast by downloading through the normal channels, including Apple and Spotify from 4am Monday.

EPISODE 168 - THE GRUMPY GOAT

We are delighted to welcome to the Podcast, Anne-Marie from The Grumpy Goat in Reading. The Grumpy Goat opened in the quirky Harris Arcade near Reading station in 2013, in a tiny unit, where swinging a cat would have been very hazardous - especially to the brilliant stocks of bottles, cans and cheeses!

In Oct 2020, during the darkest days of COVID, they took the opportunity to move into a much larger shop unit in Union Street, just off Reading's main pedestrianised shopping street. The new unit enabled a much larger stock of beers, wines and spirits, and also a significant expansion of the Deli side of the business.

Finally, and most exciting of all, in August 2022, the Goat Tap was opened above the shop, which is where we recorded this podcast.

Hammerton to launch Nitro Dry Stout in can using widget technology

Next week award winning North London based Hammerton Brewery release their popular core range Nitro Stout favourite TINT in cans using Widget technology. Last year Hammerton released their Nitro Dry Stout on draught and it quickly became their biggest selling stout and moved into their core range.

Since that time they have heavily invested in research and development to expand their knowledge and capabilities with Nitrogen technology by investing in a liquid nitrogen tank and nitrogen doser for their canning line and have been carrying out R&D using widget cans for the last 12 months. They are now believed to be the first English brewery to can a Stout using widget cans.

What are widget cans?

They are normal cans that have a small plastic cap at the bottom of the can, during the canning process, minute drops of liquid nitrogen at -195C is added to the filled cans, which trickles into a hole in the widget. Once opened, the widget's releases the nitrogen into the beer to give the cascade effect of the tiny nitrogen bubbles rising to form a thick creamy head and velvety texture.

Co founder Lee Hammerton said:

“Myself and our brewers, have always enjoyed being innovative and trying new and challenging projects when it comes to brewing beer. Due to the popularity of TINT, our Nitro stout and a long term ambition to be able to produce a Nitro Beer in can using Widget technology we decided that we would try and achieve the ambitious task of being able to put our much loved dry stout in widget cans. Its been the most challenging project for us to date, but myself and our brewers are really happy with the results and the fact that our creamy, rich smooth and velvety stout can now be enjoyed at home the same way it would be drinking it from the tap in the pub. “

After a successful pre-release event at London Craft Beer Festival on Friday 11th August , they are now ready to release the widget cans. The big release of TINT in cans will be taking place at 25+ sites across the UK from London to Liverpool on Friday 25th August, with participating sites offering a free can of TINT to the first 20 customers who order a pint of the black stuff at the bar from 6pm. TINT will be available to the rest of trade following the launch night on Friday 25th August.
